Residents Say County Roads In Bad Shape

Disgruntled Hancock county residents and property owners accosted the board of supervisors in waves Monday, complaining of impassable roads and flooded conditions.

All but two were from beat communities where, they said, some roads are in such poor conditions as to be dangerous. One woman told One Supervisor Jerry Ladner that she was filling a hole in front of her house with beer cans. Ladner at first said he would have to determine whether or not the hole was in question, situated in Belle Isles subdivision, but then accepted by the attorney Ruble Griffin they were, Ladner said that he would look into the problem.

At least three residents told Ladner that he had asked them to help in his area and that he represented a group of other residents plagued by bad roads. He beat three supervisor Peterson had promised to visit him and inspect the road but had never come. Peterson petulantly denied he had talked to the resident at any time, saying, they expect me to do in six months what hasn't been done in four years."

In other business, Edward Le Vasseur told supervisors that the county school board had outgrown its present office spaces on Main St., and that roaches had become as much a problem as the lack of space.

The McDonald building on Main and Second was available, he said, for $250 a month, which is $100 more than the school board is now paying in the present quarters.

Chancery Clerk John Rutherford explained that the county was broke and that there were no funds to pay an increased rent. Le Vasseur then proposed that the move be made, with the rent coming from regularly allocated county funds, supplemented by other sources available to the county.

the school board.

The supervisors were apparently reluctant to enter into such an agreement and the matter remained unresolved.

In an unrelated matter, county engineer Larry Seal received approval from the board for a supplemental agreement on the Lakeshore Road repair project. The agreement called for relocation of the topping pit to initiate additional clearing and grubbing.

Seal was also authorized to advertise for bids for black-topping the Caesar-Necaise Road, pending approval by the state aid road division.

Two new members of the Port and Harbor Commission were sworn into office by Rutherford during the course of the board meeting. James DeBlanc was chosen by the Governor to represent Waveland and Wilson W. Wehre, Bay St. Louis.

A request by Ladner to raise county workers above the current $2.50 per hour rate was refused by the board.

Ladner said he couldn't find anyone willing to operate a motor grader for the current salary and was asking for authorization to raise to $3. Kellar said he had two people in his beat employed who had been working for 18 years for $2.50 "and they seem to be doing all right". Rutherford brought up the wage freeze directive which, according to Phase Two, prohibits any more than a 12 and a half cent per hour raise. Ladner made a motion for the raise, which died for lack of a second.

Four Juveniles Arrested After Burglary Spree

Four Lakeshore juveniles were arrested by Hancock sheriff's deputies Sunday after a four-day burglary spree in the Clermont Harbor area, climaxed by a trip to Texas in two stolen cars.

A 14-year-old Lakeshore girl and her 16-year-old brother reported Thursday as runaways, teamed up with two other Lakeshore youths, 15 and 16-year-old, to break into a Clermont Harbor home where they stole two television sets, a clock radio and a portable record player.

Local Man Arrested For Marijuana

Hancock Sheriff Sylvan Ladner and two deputies arrested a Bay St. Louis businessman Tuesday night and seized a quantity of marijuana as well as other controlled substances.

George Garcia, 25, was stopped about 7 p.m. Tuesday for speeding on Highway 90. Ladner with deputies Fairley Necaise and Ronald Peterson brought Garcia to the county jail when 11 lids (ounces) of marijuana were found in his possession.

He was charged with speeding and possession and placed under $5,000 bond. In a later search of Garcia's home at 114 Sandy Hook Drive, Pass

Elsewhere in Clermont, they admitted to deputy sheriff Lathan Garriga, they broke into two automobiles, stealing batteries from each as well as a jack and spare tire from one of the cars.

Under interrogation Sunday by Garriga and special investigator Ronald Peterson, the four youths told of stealing 100 feet of garden hose and a large battery from a pulp wood loader.

They then stole a 1968 Ford, belonging to Michael Williams in Clermont Harbor, and drove to Baton Rouge, La. where they abandoned the car 10 miles east of the city. They stole a second automobile there and drove as far as Porter, Texas, where they were apprehended by Texas police, who held the four until their return Sunday to Hancock County.

Monday and Tuesday, Sheriff Sylvan Ladner, Garriga and Peterson recovered most of the above reported stolen articles from wooded areas where they had been hidden.

The four youths were booked at the county jail and charged with theft, with an additional charge of runaway brought against the girl and her brother. Three of the juveniles have been released to their parents and one boy is being held at the Youth Detention Center. All four have been remanded to juvenile authorities for further action.

Blackledge Resigns As Hospital Head

H. J. "Bill" Blackledge announced his resignation last week as administrator of Hancock General Hospital.

Blackledge, who has been administrator for more than six years, tendered his resignation in a letter to the hospital board of trustees and indicated that he was leaving for "personal reasons which he would rather not divulge."

"I feel that I have rendered good service to you during my tenure and have enjoyed working as your administrator. . . It is with a feeling of regret that I tender this resignation," he said.

Before joining Hancock General, Blackledge served for 13 years as administrator of Jones County Community Hospital in Laurel.

A native of Laurel, he graduated from the University of Mississippi School of Pharmacy and is a member of the American College of Hospital Administrators.

A new administrator has not been appointed.

A FREE AMPHIBIAN ride was given to the public Sunday when the local unit of the Mississippi Army National Guard displayed eight amphibians on the beach in Waveland. Since its reorganization in February of this year, Det. 1, 135th Transportation Company has been training its drivers as amphibian operators.

Waveland Water System Needs Immediate Repairs

If needed repairs aren't made and maintenance drastically improved on the Waveland city water system, the pumps will become inoperable within a year, a water systems expert told Waveland City Clerk and Alderman Dan Campion.

Campion and Fred Sutter, of Sutter Well Works in Pass Christian, made an inspection tour of the city's two pumping stations Tuesday. Campion said he had been concerned for some time over the condition of the pumps, as both were leaking water and chlorine had not been injecting into the system properly.

At the site of the main pump, situated under the water tower on Davis St., the men found the grounds in "a deplorable condition", Campion said, with trash and refuse piled around the pumps which were almost obliterated by weeds. They also discovered that the chlorine tank had obviously been empty for several days which meant that there were no protective chemicals feeding into the city water.

At pump number two on Tide St., Sutter's recommendations included replacing the lubrication pump, which was defective, as well as better maintenance and closer supervision.

The overflow valve on this pump was stuck in the open position, Campion stated, and water was discharging at a full rate, running down the street.

Sutter's overall recommendation was replacement of the lubricating pump to protect the main working pumps as well as immediate initiation of a better maintenance program. If existing conditions are allowed to continue, he warned, the entire water system will deteriorate and become inoperable within a year.

At a recent city council meeting, Campion presented the town board with estimated cost figures of several thousand dollars to replace the water system, if it became necessary. No action has been taken on the problem.

City Considers Reinstating Trash Pick-Up

A proposal to reinstate trash pick-up at business places was made by City Commissioner Andre Arceneaux at Monday's meeting of the Bay St. Louis city council.

Recently, trash collection was discontinued by the city when Mayor Warren Carver pointed out that it was costing the city money and many business places were not complying with the trash regulations. Arceneaux said, however, that he had received a number of requests from business people asking the city to reinstate the service. The matter was tabled until the next meeting.

In other action, Arceneaux also proposed that council members pass a resolution asking for a full accounting of Prisoners of War before ending the Vietnam conflict. The resolution would then be sent to Congressman William Colmer and to Senators John Stennis and James Eastland. This proposal was also tabled until the next meeting.

Commissioner William Frisbie requested that money be transferred from state loan funds to the utilities account. Frisbie pointed out that

Dialogues On Dope

by Adoree Shortle
Echo Staff Writer

Eighty-five percent of the local population turns on to drugs. That includes pre-teenagers to middle age citizens.

That figure is the consensus of 15 to 22-year-old drug users in the four-city area in which this series has been researched. These are your children who have candidly and for the most part, very honestly, discussed the drug abuse situation in Hancock and West Harrison County communities with us.

If 85 percent seems like an appalling figure, consider the fact that it comes from those who are doing it, and they ought to know. To put it in their words they are "the freaks who are into the dope thing."

This, then, will be an in-depth documentary on the narcotics problem in Hancock and West Harrison Counties.

Let it be understood at the onset that this will NOT be an expose of those involved. Nor will it be another interminable scientific outpouring of the proper medical terms as well as slang names for all the drugs now being abused by a large percentage of the American public. It will not explain at length the effect each drug has on the user nor detail the symptoms to look for in your teenager as described in scientifically researched articles, most of which are misleading and usually very wrong.

This series is an attempt to present the people of Hancock and West Harrison Counties a clear, factual picture of the narcotics situation - here at home.

Every statement and statistic in this series can be documented and has been gathered from interviews with law enforcement personnel, narcotics agents, teenage dopers and older dealers. The series has been researched over a period of many months, through hours of conversations, record searching, verifying and writing.

No names will ever be mentioned, other than police chiefs, because they are totally unimportant in the context of the series. We are not attempting to expose or implicate any narcotics users, nor do we presume to offer any sure-fire solutions to parents or police.

These "Dialogues On Dope" are presented with the hope that the community will face the fact that narcotics use is a thoroughly entrenched part of the local scene, and has been for at least seven years.

After all these years of existence, the narcotics problem is still regarded by the public, and especially parents, as sex, unweaned mothers' and mental illness used to be 50 years ago. One didn't talk about it and the feeling was-if you ignore it, maybe it'll go away.

Well, it won't go away. Narcotics use and abuse is here to stay. Just like drinking and alcoholism, it may not necessarily get worse or consume the entire population, but it definitely will not phase out and disappear. We're going to tell you what your children are doing, and why, in their own words. We're going to tell you, as they've told us, how they feel about narcotics, about parents, teachers, police and pre-teens turning on.

Then we're going to tell you, in their own words, how the police feel about the dope scene, what they're doing about it and the related problems they're facing.

Most important, narcotics abuse is NOT the exclusive activity of teenagers. Although teenage users are probably in the majority, a large percentage of over 30-year-olds turn on to everything. And we'd like to dispel immediately the erroneous popular conception of the "older dope addict", if there is still anyone who buys the melodramatic image of a leering, twitching, dirty old man who hangs around schools enticing little kids. We're talking about what a 17-year-old Pass Christian doper succinctly described as a "Friday night freak and a Sunday Christian."

We're talking about possibly your neighbor and his wife, your niece and her husband, your insurance agent, contractor, car salesman, plumber, engineer, doctor, lawyer. Before any of the above mentioned persons rise up in righteous indignation over aspersions cast on his respective profession, may we point out that we know, or have known, one or two of each who do turn on. A look at police records shows that narcotics users come in all ages, sizes and vocations. The only difference among them is the careless ones get caught, the careful ones don't.

It's almost impossible to identify a Friday night freak because he's generally adept at role playing. His hair is a little longer, but not too, his clothes are sort of mod, but not way out. He's pleasant, successful and often does go to church on Sunday, to save his conscience.

He finds smoking grass very pleasant and, at parties with other swingers, will pop pills with his scotch for a kickier high. He thinks he's pretty sharp and the teenage freak who's onto him thinks he's pretty plastic.

He (and that includes all the "she's") is also a lot harder to talk to about narcotics. As a matter of fact, there won't be any dialogues with the over-30 dopers because unless you're one of them, they don't talk about it.

But it doesn't matter because our major concern is with the young ones, the very young ones who still have a long way to go. They talk freely and almost eagerly, if they trust you. They know too much too soon . . . and still, they're looking desperately for the answers. Which some never find.

(NEXT WEEK - Dialogues with young drug users; a different point of view. How do they start; where do they get it, how do you know if your child is turning on?)

Red Beans And Rice

Adelle Shortle

When writers decide to author a newspaper column, the first thing they do is to create an appropriate title—one that is in some way connected with what they plan to write about. Things are no different at The Sea Coast Echo.

Discarding such heavies as "On The Scene" and "From Our Point Of View", the title "Red Beans And Rice" came into mind. Why? Who cares? And to sum it up, why not?

The column has no outline. It will not be left or right of the political happenings nor will it be a compilation of recipes as the title might suggest.

Actually it will be simply an outlet to express things that pique our curiosity and, we hope, yours. However, if in the process we happen to poke a few officials and burst a few balloons, bear with us. We are from New Orleans and don't know any better. Everybody makes his red beans a different way....some add salt, some add spice. But always there's a little ham....

During its 80 years of publication, The Sea Coast Echo has had many colorful publishers. One of them was Sam Ballard, who owned the paper from 1957 to 1958.

Ballard first came in contact with the Echo when he converted the paper to offset in 1956 under the ownership of Federal Judge Dan M. Russell. The Echo was one of the first papers in Mississippi to convert to offset and many people thought Ballard crazy for believing in this "modern method of printing".

In 1957, Ballard purchased The Echo from Russell and if you lived in Hancock County then, you will remember his editorials and the paper's coverage of this area's most famous murder trial.

Well, Mr. Ballard is in the news again. According to a front page story in Wednesday's Times-Picayune, Ballard's newspaper plant in the Virgin Islands was bombed Monday by "criminal elements", according to a statement by Ballard.

It seems as though his paper, Virgin Islands Free Press, has been exposing corruption in local government. This, combined with a high crime rate on the islands, appears to have triggered the bombing.

According to Ballard, the bombs destroyed equipment used to prepare plates for the paper's offset (there's that word again) press and he would call for an inquiry by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Another chapter in Ballard's life. Perhaps his training in trying to figure out Hancock County politics, steered him for "a little action" on the Virgin Islands.

Unlike Mr. Ballard, we are fortunate that our politicians react calmly and intelligently to any constructive criticism that happens to come their way.

IF YOU decide to take a leisurely stroll on the Beach Road sidewalk with the intention of gazing at the sand beach or the water, we suggest you keep your eyes straight ahead—and watch out for poles. On the other hand, we heard that the Army was considering the sidewalk as a possible obstacle course for training new recruits. In any case, it's there to stay. Our very own monument to proper planning.

Hancock County Sheriff's Report

Hancock County sheriff's deputies arrested four Westwego, La. men and a juvenile girl Sunday about midnight on Highway 90 in Bay St. Louis.

Sheriff's deputies Fairley Necaise, Michael McFarland and special agent Ronald Peterson stopped a 1963

Chevrolet station wagon and placed the five under arrest when the officers found half an ounce of marijuana in the glove compartment of the car. Anthony L. Ditchard, 25, driver of the car, was charged additionally with driving under the influence, reckless driving and having an expired driver's license. Ditchard was placed under a $1,225 bond.

Ronald M. Griffen, 27, Wilmer Troclair, 25, Sevin Arnold 22, and a 17-year-old girl were released under $500 bonds for possession of marijuana. A hearing has been set for 7 p.m., August 21 in Justice of the Peace Donald Corr's court.

Three out-of-town men were arrested Tuesday by deputy sheriff Lathan Garriga after approaching sheriff's personnel for donations to a religious organization. The men, Claude Allen Gibson, 29, Jerome T. Minch, 41, and Arthur W. Sanger, 39, were driving a 1972 Ford Torino with Indiana license plates. They were detained for questioning and later placed under arrest on a stolen car charge on information furnished by the Hawkins Ford Sales Co. in Marion, Ind. According to Garriga, Gibson had allegedly rented the Ford from the Indiana agency but had left the state without notice or authorization. A complaint has also been filed against Gibson by a Catholic Church in Texas for alleged theft of religious articles.

The three men are being held in the county jail without bond pending further investigation.

Highway safety patrol investigator Joseph Price assisted in the investigation.

Hunting, Fishing Licenses Expired

Patrick Toomey, Hancock County Game and Fish Warden, has issued a warning to area sportsmen that hunting and fishing licenses expired June 30. New licenses have been on sale at authorized locations since June 20 and Toomey said daily checks are being made of area waterways for violators.

The penalty for fishing or hunting without a license or with an expired license, he stated, is $25 to $100.

Anyone found guilty of giving false information to obtain a resident license is subject to arrest and fines of $100 to $500, Toomey added.

At a Monday meeting, Toomey received authorization from the county board of supervisors to purchase 10 signs warning fishermen and hunters of state game laws. The signs, he said, will be posted in marsh areas of Jourdan River, Pearl River and Bayou LaCroix.

Waveland Police Report

Quick thinking of a 17-year-old Waveland girl led to the arrest of a man whom she identified to Waveland police as the person who had allegedly made improper advances on a previous occasion.

Police officers Terry Holmes, Eugene Hughes and Ronald Ferrell arrested James D. Hardin about 11 p.m. July 21 on Waveland Ave. when the girl recognized Hardin and called police. The 33-year-old Waveland resident was charged with reckless driving and indecent exposure, and booked in the county jail. Hardin was later released on bail.

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

City-County Library Writer

Last week on television we watched the funeral services for Sen. Allan Ellender at Houma, Louisiana. They were solemn and dignified, sometimes moving. Then at the end there occurred one of the most flagrant breaches of good taste we have ever seen on the air: the camera was on President Nixon leaving the church when, without a second's pause for transition, the station switched to a stupid, blatant plug for somebody's detergent. A great American apparently had taken too long in passing, and the greedy, commercial-minded station people were going to sell their stupid products and to hell with dignity and respect, which obviously were unprofitable. This matter of tv commercials is rapidly getting out of hand. In the first days of tv, the Federal Communications Commission, set up by congress to keep networks and stations from going hog-wild on profits, set a limit of one-minute-commercial in fifteen minutes of program. A certain laxness has become noticeable in the FCC over the years, and today if you check some programs, such as the six o'clock news, you will be regaled with as many as ten to twelve plugs in half an hour. And have you noticed that on the hour or half-hour, the announcer will say "The program will be continued after a station break", and after the call letters there will come from one to as many as six commercials.

Plugs are inserted in programs without any regard to good sense. A dramatic program is worked up to a high point of excitement or tension, and at that moment you will be treated to an eulogy on somebody's sausage or bug killer. And there's nothing you can do about it, except go to the refrigerator for a beer, because you are what is known as the "captive audience". You are compelled to break the train of thought which the program has inspired and to listen to a fulsome blurb on some product you don't give a hoot about and wouldn't take even if it was given to you.

It has always been a part of the FCC's obligation to see that the captive audience is not abused by being subjected to reams of commercials, and on this point the government agency has been less than on the job. Ever watch the movies late in the evening, from eleven o'clock on? If so, you will have noticed that you get about three minutes' movie to two to six commercials. At the start of some long programs, like football games, you are told that the program is brought to you by four sponsors, and then as the show goes on you find that in addition to the four there are half a dozen other products plugged.

The FCC is a trade commission operating under the control of the congress and is therefore subject to your wishes. If every member of the captive audience were to tell the FCC what he or she thinks about commercials, there would be a quick change in the number, if not the quality, of the advertisements.

Chamber Report

by Sylvia McCloskey

The Chamber responded this week to 23 telephone requests for area information, eight letters requesting information in reference to visiting our area, and 17 visitors in our office requesting information of various sorts.

The Red Carpet Committee, composed of representatives from Hancock and Harrison Counties, originally formed for the purpose of informing incoming Litton employees of the Coast, has been expanded to include all newcomers to our area through any industry (Keesler is participating also). This opens the door for us to have the opportunity to personally inform these people of what Hancock County has to offer as a fine place to live and raise a family.

There will be a reception Thursday, August 10 at the Sheraton Biloxi Motor Inn at 8 p.m. for newcomers. Any realtors wishing to participate are requested to send one representative to give information assistance upon request. "No Hard Selling". Listings may be placed on a bulletin board according to price range. Rentals will have a board also.

No one can guarantee results; this is a new effort and will possibly have a period of trial and error, but the opportunity to expose what we have to offer to a greater number of people is here, and we hope that patience and participation from our area will bring results.

A bulletin board will also be available with school information and in this area, Hancock County will certainly shine. Our schools are possibly our greatest attraction and we should certainly be proud of this fact.

Social Security Information

To be eligible for social security disability payments, which start in the seventh month of disability, a worker must be so severely disabled that it looks like he'll be unable to work for a year or more. But he should file for benefits as soon as he becomes disabled. Generally, he must have worked in employment covered by social security for at least 5 1/2 years and five years of the work must have been during the ten years before his disability began.

The work requirement is lower for workers disabled before age 31. Mr. Hobbs said, "Young people may be eligible for benefits with as little as 1 1/2 years of covered work, depending on when they became disabled," he said. "A worker between 24 and 31 needs credit for having worked under social security half the time between 21 and the time he became disabled. Before age 24, the worker needs credit for 1 1/2 years of work in the three-year period before his disability began."

Jackson Balch and Department Heads of the Test Facility. This meeting was to inform us of activities going on at the present time and also the future projects to be conducted there. It was a very informative meeting and gave all concerned a much clearer picture of the future of the Mississippi Test Facility.

Trumpets In The Morning

by Perry D. Neal, Pastor
First Baptist Church, Bay St. Louis

ASHAMED OF JESUS!
Joseph Grigg has written: Ashamed of Jesus! That dear Friend On whom my hopes of heaven depend! No; when I blush, be this my shame, That I no more revere His name. Ashamed of Christ? Never! Repeatedly we are encouraged to openly confess Christ and not be ashamed. In fact, Jesus said, "Whoever therefore shall be ashamed of me and of my words in this adulterous and sinful generation; of him also shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he cometh in the glory of his Father with holy angels" (Mark 8:38).

Failure to acknowledge Christ often results in careless living, whereas a public confession puts us on record before our fellow man as well as God. The very fact that others know of your decision often helps to guard against temptation. Then, too, activity strengthens. In a winsome way, tell someone of your faith in Christ. As you share with others, you will develop a bigger appetite for the Bible and also definite subjects for prayer are provided through witnessing.

R.A. Torrey said, "If you make a great deal of Christ, He will make a great deal of you; but if you make but little of Christ, Christ will make but little of you."

It is really thrilling to be able to sing with Phillip Doddridge: O happy day that fixed my choice On Thee, my Savior and my God! Well may this glowing heart rejoice, And TELL its raptures all abroad.

Yes, your decision to receive Jesus Christ has provoked a real, happy, lasting change. Let's intelligently and lovingly tell the whole world about Jesus Christ.

STRAIGHT AHEAD!
Rehabilitation can include job training, physical therapy, and similar services, the district manager said. Since 1965, when rehabilitation became a part of the disability program, social security's investment in rehabilitating disabled workers has saved $1.60 in benefits for every $1 invested in rehabilitation, Mr. Hobbs said.

Tips To Veterans And Dependents

PREPARED BY CHESTER CURVEY HANCOCK COUNTY VETERANS SERVICE OFFICER

1. RELEASE OF LIABILITY: It cannot be stressed too strongly that when a veteran sells a home that he purchased with a G.I. Loan that he must obtain a "Release Of Liability" if he sells on an assumption the part of the VA, but must be requested from the VA. By all means this should be done before the veteran signs any sales contract. The VA may issue a "Release Of Liability" if payments on the loan are current, the purchases agrees to assume all of the veteran's liabilities and the buyer is a good credit risk. Failure to get this release will, in the event the person who promised to make the payments defaults, make the veteran liable for all late payments and the property is still his. Save yourself a lot of trouble, worry and expense and get that "Release of Liability" when you sell your home and the loan is not paid off. Liability when you sell your home and the loan is not paid off.

2. Railroad express agencies and freight depots are becoming scarce, so it is now possible to have the headstone or grave marker for a deceased veteran shipped by motor freight. When ordering your grave markers henceforth be sure and state how you wish delivery to be made.

3. During April approximately 21,000 veterans completed high school under the G.E. Bill. Thus, 68,000 non-high school graduates have taken advantage of this schooling since it became available in 1967. If you are a "high school drop out" think seriously about completing your education. It pays a single veteran $175.00 per month and does not affect their eligibility for college in the event you wish to continue to a higher education. THIS IS A CHANCE IN A LIFETIME. DO NOT LET IT PASS YOU BY!

4. I am presently being held up on processing three widow's pensions, and maybe I can never process them, due to a lack of supporting documents. Be sure you have in your possession these papers if applicable: Discharge papers; Divorce papers of both man and wife; marriage licenses of your present marriage and birth certificates of children under eighteen years of age. If the veteran does not pass away in a VA Hospital a death certificate will be required.

Deaths

JOSEPH S. LANG
Joseph S. (Ike) Lang, 69, a lifelong resident of Bay St. Louis, died at 4:40 a.m. Sunday, August 6, at Hancock General Hospital.

A resident of Poplarville, Mr. Ladner was a retired grocery store operator, a member of the First Baptist Church and Herring Byrd Masonic Lodge 564.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Angie Ladner, Poplarville, Miss.; four sons, Nimocks F. Ladner, Buchanan, Mich.; Robert Derwood (Buck) Ladner, Long Beach; Major Donald Ladner, Annandale, Va.; Robert Walker Ladner, Poplarville; four daughters, Mrs. James Hader, Poplarville; Mrs. Lauren Sonier, Waveland; Mrs. Melvin Lenoir, Poplarville and Mrs. Larry Daigle, Metairie, La.; two sisters, Mrs. Clarence Randolph, Bay St. Louis and Mrs. Acy Hartfield, Poplarville and 22 grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Saturday from Jenkins Funeral Home, Poplarville, with Rev. Jesse Broadus, retired Baptist minister, and Dr. Robert B. Barnes, Poplarville First Baptist Church, officiating. Interment was in Poplarville Cemetery.

Our readers write

Dear Sir:

To all Participants involved in the Ingram Arsenal Explosion May 24, 1972.

Even though many days have passed since the severe disaster which claimed five lives and caused the abandonment of the Ingram Industries Arsenal which in turn caused the loss of many jobs as well as considerable revenue for Hancock County.

We here in our local City of Bay St. Louis Civil Defense wish to say "THANKS" for the wonderful response that you so readily furnished to back up our meager resources. It is people like you that make the two words CIVIL DEFENSE so meaningful "in our realm". Even though the general public may not appreciate or understand the Civil Defense role in everyday life, even though much of the assistance rendered at this disaster may not have been solely from Civil Defense, it was the planning and programming which only Civil Defense can do that make this help so readily available.

I wish at this time to extend my heartfelt thanks to Harrison and Jackson County Councils for their outstanding help.

I wish to especially mention the City of Biloxi Civil Defense Fire Department for being on the scene the most number of hours in this emergency.

These many units of the State of Mississippi Civil Defense structure of which we are all responsible to:

Moss Point Civil Defense, Pascagoula Civil Defense, Biloxi Civil Defense, Gulfport Civil Defense, Long Beach Civil Defense, Pass Christian Civil Defense, Waveland Civil Defense, Kiln Volunteer Fire Department, Mississippi Highway Patrol, Hancock County Sheriff Department, National Guard (John Mayo), State Forestry Commission, Wild Life and Fisheries, EOT Team City of Bay St. Louis, Police Department Bay St. Louis, Utilities System Bay St. Louis, Fire Department Bay St. Louis, Civil Air Patrol BSL Flight, Mississippi Test Facility, Fort Rucker EOT Team, Hancock General Hospital, HERO Citizen Band Team BSL and Coast Electric.

General Summary:

Our State Civil Defense Office in Jackson, Mississippi immediately on notification over the News circuit at 2:55 p.m. on May 24, 1972 from our City of Bay St. Louis Civil Defense Council changed over from their daily operations to an emergency status. You may be assured that State Office participation can be realized only by having been on the scene here in the City of Bay St. Louis Civil Defense Council. There were many facets of this emergency that only our State Office could direct in such a positive manner. Again let me say many thanks to all the above mentioned units as well as those not mentioned because of the turmoil in such a matter.

J. R. LAVOIE, Director

(The following letter is being reprinted at the request of Mr. Camplion)

August 9, 1972

The Honorable Mayor Garfield Ladner
Board of Aldermen
City of Waveland
Waveland, Mississippi 39576

My dear Mayor:
I, Daniel Camplion, have no desire to make the controversy of the Waveland Water and Gas Department a personal issue.

The operation of the department is without proper supervision. There is no management in the department. Billing and office techniques are properly handled and efficiently so. The first problem is the lack of a proper work order system. The personnel do receive an order to install or remove a water or gas meter, but the only information recorded is a serial number of the meter installed or removed and date. It should require the office to record the following information: Date order received, date installation requested and date issued to technician.

The technician will record the date and time work started, number of men on job, material required, serial number of meter, date and time of completion. This work order is then returned to the office, which would record the total man hours spent and material cost on this installation, repair job and or maintenance work. At the end of each month a record could be presented to the Mayor and Board of Aldermen: Accounting of man-hour and material costs as is important to the efficient operation of the City as is the financial accounting.

Another very important factor in the very inefficient operation of the water and gas department and in the vehicles of the city is the lack of preventative maintenance. This was very evident in the inspection of the city's water pumps - leaks, improper chlorination system installation, and many other small problems that will become big costly ones if not corrected. All meters must be checked periodically for proper operation, cleanliness and for leaks. Many meters (water) are underground and covered with mud and going behind the meter reader, it would have been impossible for him to read these meters. Leaks exist in both water and gas meters.

Problems exist on all motor vehicles that could have been prevented and many hundreds of dollars saved had there been a good preventative maintenance program and the city owned its own city garage and had a good mechanic employed.

Respectfully submitted,
Daniel F. Camplion
City Clerk
City of Waveland

UNIT MEETING
Monthly meeting of American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139 will be held August 14 at 8 p.m. at the Legion Home. Guest speakers will be girls who attended Girls State.

Dear Sir:

Last week some fifty boys, both Boy Scouts and the older Explorer Scouts, spent a wonderful week in the Great Smoky Mountains and other National Park areas of Tennessee and Alabama.

Many people worked to help raise funds for this trip and to assist the leaders in numerous ways, and all of this was a great help.

But my letter today is to particularly express the gratitude of those of us who are parents of these boys. Our thanks go to the American Legion whose splendid program of Scouting is one of the outstanding accomplishments of our community.

But most of all our deep appreciation goes to Messrs. Watson Johns, Warren Buehler, Charles Scianna, Billy Power, Al Summy, Ronald Thomas, Felix Seeger and Commander Al Vetter.

Few communities the size of Bay St. Louis, could find the capable and dedicated leadership to give weekly training all year long and then give up vacation periods several times during the year to take young boys on camping trips around the country.

We, as parents of these boys, are deeply indebted to these leaders, for helping to rear these young men in the principles of responsible American Citizenship.

Yours very truly,
DAVE McDONALD

Dear Sir:

On August 1, 1972 Mayor Garfield Ladner and the Board of Aldermen of the City of Waveland, Mississippi, voted to rezone as commercial fifty (50) feet of property on Coleman Avenue, Waveland, previously zoned for multiple dwellings or medical center. Mr. Ashman, broker, acting on behalf of Mr. Glenn Bannister of New Orleans, requested this rezoning in order that his client could sell the property to a buyer wishing to erect a chain store. The broker maintained that the net result would be a gain in taxes for the City of Waveland.

The question now arises, of course, as to whether the owner of the adjacent property would receive like consideration were he or she to petition for rezoning on the same grounds. For the 450 ft. to the Beach.

Yours sincerely,
Mrs. Bea George

Tuition for Public School?

Squeezed for funds, a board of education decided to impose a tuition fee on all high school students. In short order, indignant parents went to court to complain. They pointed out that the state constitution called for a system of "free" public education. In reply, the board argued that it was simply using its discretion to ease a tight financial situation. But the court decided that tuition was indeed unconstitutional. "The right of children to attend public school," said the court, "is not dependent on the discretion of anyone."

Public High School
BILL

Tuition $250

With education costs climbing, there has been renewed interest in the idea of charging fees of one kind or another to public school students. But tuition, at least, has usually been ruled out because of the requirement that education should be free.

Lesser fees, too, have been rejected by the courts more often than not. In another case, a school board tried to charge pupils for their textbooks. The board's theory was that "free" education referred merely to the school building and the teachers -- not to "extras."

However, the court held this fee unconstitutional also, saying that books are an integral part of the educational process. The judge commented:

"No education of any value is possible without school books."

Nevertheless, another school board did succeed in collecting a textbook deposit from its students. This time, the plan had two features that made it more palatable:

1) the deposit was waived for any student who could not pay it; and

2) the deposit was refunded at the end of the semester, if the books were returned in reasonably good condition.

A court decided that this kind of a fee was too minor a burden on the educational process to be objectionable. All it amounted to, said the court, was a practical method of encouraging students to take good care of their books.

KANTCHA KETCHUM

By L.S. Dyer

Nothing has been done with the weather for the past weekend. The weather has been ideal with a few thunder showers which didn't amount to anything. In fact, a few showers help fishing. That is fresh water fishing. The fish feed on bugs and worms washed off overhanging trees and bushes which line the banks of bayous and rivers. Low tides have prevailed that makes fishing best.

For salt water fishing fishermen wading out from Waveland and down to Bayou Caddy have been catching specks on plugs and shad rigs and other artificial baits. Speckles have also been caught on live mullets, croakers and minnows. Those going out to Half Moon and the marshes have been doing o.k. regarding specks, red fish, flounders and other salt water fish.

Hard crabs are being caught in traps and nets. As far as soft crabs there are none. Tried them the other night. Something must be wrong. Didn't see any hard crabs. There must be hard crabs to have soft crabs.

Fly fishing has been ideal. Perch and bass are being caught most everywhere. They are hitting popping bugs and surface plugs, like the Rebel or Repala, Pearl River proper, Middle River, Johnson Pass and Mills Bayou are where they are catching them.

If you want to go flying fishing, plan to go during the week. On the weekends the skillets have taken over. They are just as likely to run over you or not. There should be some laws to control them. They have fast boats, travel at high speeds, have no regard for the average small boat fisherman. Seems like they want to show off how fast they can run - don't even slow down when passing other boats. They are not fishermen, only boat riders.

Byron and Margie Lynch and children, Byron, Jr., Elizabeth, Robin and Robert from Baton Rouge visited their grandparents, the Einfields at Waveland the past weekend. They went fishing twice in Bay St. Louis and caught nine fine flounders. Seven-year-old Robin was the champ, with a 3-pounder. Come back more often folks.

Was in New Orleans last week. Met Betty Bouchon (Your lovely hostess). Betty is owner and operator of the Beach-corner Lounge on Canal Street. She loves fishing and the outdoors but has little time to go, she said.

Attended a family gathering given by Mr. and Mrs. Dan Haggerty for their son Timothy last Sunday in New Orleans. Timothy, BM 3rd class, on the U.S.S. Enterprise was home on leave. Swimming in the family swimming pool and picnic eating made for a swell day.

Dick Mestayer one of our best fly fishermen is another goner. Goner go when I can. Better go now Dick, they are really hitting.

Had the pleasure of having Nino (Anthony Enterante, Jr.) our grandson and Carol and the children over during the week. Nino took the children fishing Friday. The catch was 24 nice size croakers caught in Bayou Caddy. Nino fishes mostly at Leeville down by Grand Isle where they catch big reds and speckles.

Fred Leston from Syracuse, New York, was down on a vacation last week. Fred does mostly casting. We went fishing at Pearl River and returned with a nice catch of bass. He lives in New York but does a lot of fishing in Canada where they even catch Black Bass and other large native fish. Fred loves any kind of fishing and is a real outdoors sport.

The cost of a duck stamp has jumped to $5.00 this year. With the bag limit on ducks as low

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK

Junior Seals, Jr. is one of our best fishermen. He loves any kind of fishing and other outdoor sports. His home is on a Dollar Bayou and does most of fishing in that neck of the woods. Gets his share of the funny tribe.

Going back to fishing when he finishes his new home, which he says won't be long.

Thomas Albert Oliver, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. August Oliver was baptized Sunday in Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church with Rev. George Kitchin, associate pastor, officiating. Godparents were Ricky Geoffrey and Miss Tammy Bethel.

"Price? It's important.... quality construction is, too.... I'll help you with both...."

Here's a man that has a plan to help you build a quality home, on your property, that's low in cost.

This is Mr. Bill Smith, manager of Jim Walter Homes in Birmingham, Ala. If you live near Birmingham, just call Bill on the phone or stop by to see him. But if you don't live nearby, it doesn't really matter, because there is another Jim Walter Homes manager near you. And, just like Bill Smith, he also has a plan to help you build a quality home on your property and keep your cost low. You see, all Jim Walter managers are pretty much the same. That is, each one is selected because he is friendly... easy to talk to... he "understands." And, he has been trained... trained to work for you, his customer, and to explain to you all the advantages of building the Jim Walter way. He'll show you more than twenty models from which you may select your new home, and then, if you are willing to do some of your own inside finishing... he'll show you how to cut your costs, down to the bare minimum... he'll explain how we will stop at almost ANY stage of inside completion and allow you to finish the rest yourself... to save you money. You can do just about as much or as little as you want. He'll tell you about construction of your new home... go into all the details of the quality inspections he'll make all the way from the time the foundation is set, until the entire outside is completely finished. He'll inspect the floor joists, the framing, the roof rafters, roofing, siding, windows and painting. He'll see to it that you do get QUALITY CONSTRUCTION from the bottom to the top.

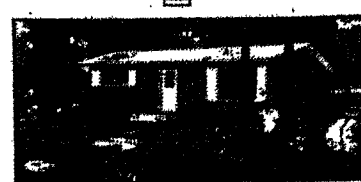

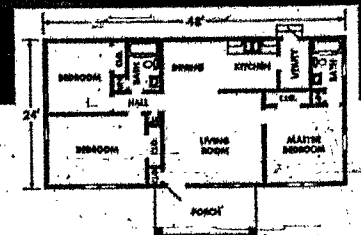

OVER 20 LOW COST MODELS • BUILT ON YOUR PROPERTY...

It'll cost you nothing to get complete information and the cost of building on your property. We would like to give you this information absolutely FREE and without obligation. We think you'll agree we do have the BEST deal for you, but if you don't think so, we'll part as friendly as we met. Find out for yourself. Contact your LOCAL Jim Walter Homes manager right away.

Flood Insurance Costs too Much? Look Again...

Newly reduced flood insurance prices for homes and businesses in the flood-prone areas of Mississippi make flood insurance available at about 40% below what it was.

This means, for example, that it now costs only $25 to insure to $10,000 a single family home valued at $17,500. Or the entire amount can be insured for only $43.75.

A business property in these areas valued at $30,000 can be fully insured for only $120.

Contents, furniture and equipment can also be insured at low cost.

This important coverage at the reduced cost can be obtained in communities which are eligible under the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968. To find out more about coverage available in your area, contact your insurance representative.

The Travelers Insurance Companies in Jackson serve Mississippi for the National Flood Insurance Association.

LIGHT STYLES

by Marcia Crawford

Miss Crawford is an interior decorator and home furnishings consultant to Thomas Industries of Louisville, Kentucky, leading producer of residential lighting. Here, she answers some typical questions about home lighting.

Q. What part does lighting play in home decorating?

A. Lighting is an integral part of home decor, just as the floor coverings, wall colors, furniture style, upholstery and draperies.

Q. What are the primary objectives of good home lighting?

A. To provide adequate illumination while fulfilling a number of decorating needs, both through the styling of the lamps or fixtures and by the light they originate.

Q. Chain hung fixtures have become popular. How are they used?

A. This type of lighting style can be used over nearly any table where a lamp could be placed. Additionally, they can be installed over areas where light and decorating accents are both required, such as a counter or game table.

Our Health

By C. H. Tracy, M.D.

A number of years ago my father developed a very unsightly patch of skin cancer on the back of his neck. He was treated for it and no longer has the problem. Now my husband is beginning to develop dark sun-spots in the same area of his neck. Can there be any connection between this and the fact that they spend so much time outdoors in the course of tending to the farm?

It has been well established that as a result of chronic, cumulative sun exposure — such as a man experienced who spends much of his day outdoors tending a farm — a person can develop "prematurely aged" skin, precancers and skin cancers. This will be more apparent in the skin of persons who are infatuated. For your father and husband, it is very likely that they neglect to protect the back of their necks from the dangerous ultraviolet rays of the sun, a spot particularly vulnerable while driving a tractor or working in the fields.

The early signs of skin damage from the sun include dryness, wrinkling, a loss of elasticity and the brown "sun spots" you mention. Ideally, a person should keep his skin covered while outdoors during the daylight hours, whether the sun is shining brightly or not. He should wear long sleeves, full length trousers, a hat with a brim to cast a shadow on his face. In addition, doctors have found a solution that will successfully block the rays of the sun — it is para-aminobenzoic acid in alcohol — and protects the skin of even the most sun-sensitive person. Tests have shown that when used properly, PABA will protect the skin against even 40 times the amount of ultraviolet rays it would take to cause a nasty sunburn. It is especially useful for men who work outdoors because, once it is applied to the skin, it becomes invisible while in use. PABA penetrates into the horny layer of the skin, and therefore is not easily washed away, as are other sun screening products which merely sit on top of the skin.

PABA is available commercially in a sun-screening product from Westwood Pharmaceuticals, called PreSun. Used daily, on all areas of the body customarily exposed to the sun, PreSun will effectively protect the skin against sunburn.

Services Held Sunday For Deputy Sheriff

Merrill Joseph Bills, 58, former Hancock County deputy sheriff and a resident of Bay St. Louis, died Friday at 3 p.m. in Veteran's Hospital in Biloxi.

He was born August 20, 1913 in Biloxi but had been a resident of Hancock County for the past nine years, and served as a sheriff's deputy for four years prior to his death.

Mr. Bills joined the United States Navy in July 1942 and served in the Pacific Theatre until his discharge in 1945, when he returned to the Biloxi area. He traveled extensively throughout the country until 1963 when he and his wife, the former Iris Smith Holmes, settled in Bay St. Louis.

Beside his wife he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Fern Pennington; his mother, Mrs. Verina Bills, Biloxi; a brother, Ernest Bills, Bay St. Louis and a stepson, Terry Holmes, Waveland.

A rosary service was held Saturday evening at Riemann's Fahey Funeral Home in Bay St. Louis, by Fr. Olivier of Divine Word Seminary. Funeral services Sunday were conducted by Fr. Daniel Whelton of St. Clare's Catholic Church in Waveland. Interment was in Garden of Memories Cemetery in Bay St. Louis.

SECTION B

MRS. RONALD LAFONTAINE

FOR WOMEN

LaFontaine-Blaize Vows

Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Elaine Marie Blaize, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond A. Blaize Sr. of Bay St. Louis, Miss., to Ronald J. LaFontaine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland LaFontaine Jr. of Gulfport, Miss.

Very Rev. Gregory Johnson, pastor, and Rev. David O'Connor of Oxford, Miss., performed the double ring ceremony at a Nuptial Mass at 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

The altar, flanked by tall baskets of white gladioli and Majestic daisies held arrangements of white blossoms and greenery.

Mrs. John McKenna, organist, played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Miss Inez Favre, cousin of the bride, who sang, 'More, Ave Maria and Beautiful Savior.'

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an organza empire gown with drindri skirt and built in train. Venice lace appliques trimmed the waist, bishop sleeves and cuffs. Similar appliques were scattered on the skirt and train. Her tiered-veil of nylon illusion fell from a headpiece of Venice lace and she carried a bouquet of daisies and yellow rose buds centered with an orchid. Her only jewelry was a gold chain and monogrammed pendant, a gift of the groom.

Miss Shelly LaFontaine, sister of the groom, attended the bride as maid of honor and Mrs. Louis Naman, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Illona Marquez of Bay St. Louis and Miss Sharon Henderson, cousin of the bride of Violet, La.

They wore Pale yellow dotted Swiss empire style gowns trimmed in matching lace and wide-brimmed pale yellow straw hats. They carried baskets of daisies.

Michael Ladner of Hattiesburg served his cousin as best man. Groomsmen were the groom's father, Glenn Blaize, Gretna, La. and Gary Blaize, Bay St. Louis, brothers of the bride. Edmond A. Blaize Jr., Gretna, La. and Dr. Louis Naman, Mobile, brother-in-law of the bride, served as ushers. Edmond Naman, Mobile, nephew of the bride, and Stevie Haas, Kiln, Miss., cousin of the groom, were altar boys.

A reception was held at Trapani's Shamrock Room where the couple was assisted in receiving by their parents and members of the bridal party.

The mother of the bride received their guests wearing a shrimp tone double knit dress with matching coat trimmed with silk braided motifs, matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

The mother of the groom chose a pink knit and chiffon two-piece suit with matching accessories. An orchid corsage completed her ensemble.

The bride's table, overlaid with a handmade lace cloth over yellow linen was centered with a five-tiered cake. The second tier, separated by tall Grecian arches, held an arrangement of Majestic daisies and English Ivy.

Cherubs framed in tiny yellow spun-sugar roses and large yellow roses trimmed the other tiers. An arrangement of cherubs framed by flowery garlands completed the top tier. Branched silver candelabra entwined with daisies and English Ivy were on either side. Potted palms and arrangements of gladioli and Majestic daisies formed the background.

Miss Inez Favre and Misses Peggy and Gina Haas, cousins of the groom, presided at the cake table. Miss Betty Paricario kept the bride's register.

For traveling the bride wore a long dress fashioned with a black and white bodice and printed skirt.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to Florida, the couple will make their home in an apartment in Louisville Gardens, Bay St. Louis. The bride is presently employed as a teacher at Annunciation School, Kiln, and the groom is employed with Coast Electric, Bay St. Louis.

Great American Dream Machine.

America is the place that is made out of dreams. And, U.S. Savings Bonds have been helping to make happy dreams come true for years.

Now, Bonds mature in less than six years! That means your dream can come true faster than ever before.

You can buy shares in your particular dream by joining the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or the Bond-a-Month plan where you bank.

Before you know it, your American dream will be a reality.

Now U.S. Bonds pay 6 1/2% interest when held to maturity of 3 years, 10 months (4 1/2% the first year). Bonds are replaced if lost, stolen, or destroyed. When needed they can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Take stock in America. Now Bonds mature in less than six years.

LIGHT STYLES

by Marcia Crawford

Miss Crawford is an interior decorator and home furnishings consultant to Thomas Industries of Louisville, Kentucky, leading producer of residential lighting. Here, she answers some typical questions about home lighting.

Q. What part does lighting play in home decorating?

A. Lighting is an integral part of home decor, just as the floor coverings, wall colors, furniture style, upholstery and draperies.

Q. What are the primary objectives of good home lighting?

A. To provide adequate illumination while fulfilling a number of decorating needs, both through the styling of the lamps or fixtures and by the light they originate.

Q. Chain hung fixtures have become popular. How are they used?

A. This type of lighting style can be used over nearly any table where a lamp could be placed. Additionally, they can be installed over areas where light and decorating accents are both required, such as a counter or game table.

OUR HEALTH

By C. H. Tracy, M.D.

A number of years ago my father developed a very unsightly patch of skin cancer on the back of his neck. He was treated for it and no longer has the problem. Now my husband is beginning to develop dark sun-spots in the same area of his neck. Can there be any connection between this and the fact that they spend so much time outdoors in the course of tending to the farm?

It has been well established that as a result of chronic, cumulative sun exposure — such as a man or woman who spends much of his day outdoors tending a farm — a person can develop pre-maturely aged skin, precancers and skin cancers. This will be more apparent in the skin of persons who are fair-skinned. For your father and husband, it is very likely that they neglect to protect the back of their necks from the dangerous ultraviolet rays of the sun, a spot particularly vulnerable while driving a tractor or working in the fields.

The early signs of skin damage from the sun include dryness, wrinkling, a loss of elasticity and the brown "sun spots" you mention. Ideally, a person should keep his skin covered while outdoors during the daylight hours, whether the sun is shining brightly or not. He should wear long sleeves, full length trousers, a hat with a brim to cast a shadow on his face. In addition, doctors have found a solution that will successfully block the rays of the sun — it is para-aminobenzoic acid in alcohol — and protects the skin of even the most sun-sensitive person. Tests have shown that when used properly, PABA will protect the skin against even 40 times the amount of ultraviolet rays it would take to cause a nasty sunburn. It is especially useful for men who work outdoors because, once it is applied to the skin, it becomes invisible while in use. PABA penetrates into the horny layer of the skin, and therefore is not easily washed away, as are other sun screening products which merely sit on top of the skin.

PABA is available commercially in a sun-screening product from Westwood Pharmaceuticals, called PreSun. Used daily, on all areas of the body customarily exposed to the sun, PreSun will effectively protect the skin against sunburn.

Services Held Sunday For Deputy Sheriff

Merrill Joseph Bills, 58, former Hancock County deputy sheriff and a resident of Bay St. Louis, died Friday at 3 p.m. in Veteran's Hospital in Biloxi.

He was born August 20, 1913 in Biloxi but had been a resident of Hancock County for the past nine years, and served as a sheriff's deputy for four years prior to his death.

Mr. Bills joined the United States Navy in July 1942 and served in the Pacific Theatre until his discharge in 1945, when he returned to the Biloxi area. He traveled extensively throughout the country until 1963 when he and his wife, the former Iris Smith Holmes, settled in Bay St. Louis.

Beside his wife he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Fern Pennington; his mother, Mrs. Verina Bills, Biloxi; a brother, Ernest Bills, Bay St. Louis and a stepson, Terry Holmes, Waveland.

A rosary service was held Saturday evening at Riemann's Fahey Funeral Home in Bay St. Louis, by Fr. Olivier of Divine Word Seminary. Funeral services Sunday were conducted by Fr. Daniel Whelton of St. Clare's Catholic Church in Waveland. Interment was in Garden of Memories Cemetery in Bay St. Louis.

MRS. RONALD LAFONTAINE

LaFontaine-Blaize Vows

Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Elaine Marie Blaize, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond A. Blaize Sr. of Bay St. Louis, Miss., to Ronald J. LaFontaine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland LaFontaine Jr. of Gulfport, Miss.

Very Rev. Gregory Johnson, pastor, and Rev. David O'Connor of Oxford, Miss., performed the double ring ceremony at a Nuptial Mass at 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

The altar, flanked by tall baskets of white gladioli and majestic daisies held arrangements of white blossoms and greenery.

Mrs. John McKenna, organist, played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Miss Inez Favre, cousin of the bride, who sang, More, Ave Maria and Beautiful Saviour.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an organza empire gown with drind skirt and built in train. Venice lace appliques trimmed the waist, bishop sleeves and cuffs. Similar appliques were scattered on the skirt and train. Her tiered-veil of nylon illusion fell from a headpiece of Venice lace and she carried a bouquet of daisies and yellow rose buds centered with an orchid. Her only jewelry was a gold chain and monogrammed pendant, a gift of the groom.

Miss Shelly LaFontaine, sister of the groom, attended the bride as maid of honor and Mrs. Louis Naman, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Illona Marquez of Bay St. Louis and Miss Sharon Henderson, cousin of the bride of Violet, La.

LIFESAVING COURSE

There will be an American Red Cross Junior Life Saving class offered the week of August 14-19 at the St. Stanislaus pool every day from 8-10 a.m. This class is being taught as part of the Bay-Waveland Junior Auxiliary's Summer Fun House.

They wore Pale yellow dotted Swiss empire-style gowns trimmed in matching lace and wide-brimmed pale yellow straw hats. They carried baskets of daisies.

Michael Ladner of Hattiesburg served his cousin as best man. Groomsmen were the groom's father, Glenn Blaize, Gretna, La. and Gary Blaize, Bay St. Louis, brothers of the bride. Edmond A. Blaize Jr., Gretna, La. and Dr. Louis Naman, Mobile, brother-in-law of the bride, served as ushers. Edmond Naman, Mobile, nephew of the bride, and Stevie Haas, Kiln, Miss., cousin of the groom, were altar boys.

A reception was held at Trapani's Shamrock Room where the couple was assisted in receiving by their parents and members of the bridal party.

The mother of the bride received their guests wearing a shrimp tone double knit dress with matching coat trimmed with silk braided motifs, matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

The mother of the groom chose a pink knit and chiffon two-piece suit with matching accessories. An orchid corsage completed her ensemble.

The bride's table, overlaid with a handmade lace cloth over yellow linen was centered with a five-tiered cake. The second tier, separated by tall Grecian arches, held an arrangement of majestic daisies and English Ivy.

Cherubs framed in tiny yellow spun sugar roses and large yellow roses trimmed the other tiers. An arrangement of cherubs framed by flowery garlands completed the top tier. Branched silver candelabra entwined with daisies and English Ivy were on either side. Potted palms and arrangements of gladiola and majestic daisies formed the background.

Miss Inez Favre and Misses Peggy and Gina Haas, cousins of the groom, presided at the cake table. Miss Betty Penicillaro kept the bride's register.

For traveling the bride wore a long dress fashioned with a black and white bodice and printed skirt.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to Florida, the couple will make their home in an apartment in Louisville Gardens, Bay St. Louis. The bride is presently employed as a teacher at Annunciation School, Kiln, and the groom is employed with Coast Electric, Bay St. Louis.

Russian Party

Russians are hearty eaters and while their food may be simple, it is always plentiful. The greatest disgrace that can befall any Russian hostess is not to have more than enough food so generally there is always ample left over. Russians cook and eat in abundance.

Generally four meals are served daily. These include breakfast, lunch, dinner and a late evening snack around the samovar, which is shown in the photograph. The samovar means "hot-cooker". Russians use the samovar only to heat the water for their tea. They never make the tea itself in the samovar. The tea is made in a small china pot into which you pour boiling water from the samovar. The samovar is filled with cold water and then is heated by burning charcoal contained in the draft chimney. The samovar is then displayed proudly in the dining room.

Because the Russians enjoy such conviviality while eating, and the food is so delicious, you might like to have an authentic Russian dinner for your own friends.

Your menu could include delicious piroshki or meat filled pies served as appetizers before the meal. Served along with this would be pieces of French roll spread with cheese and toasted. These are called Grentki, and they can be served as appetizers or along with the soup, which is a Russian favorite. The most common type of soup is cabbage soup which makes a hearty, nutritious main course for your Russian meal, served with a container of sour cream.

Finally, no Russian menu could be complete without kasha, which is any grain boiled for hours in a slow oven. For a vast majority of Russians, soup and kasha form the staple diet throughout the year.

You will note that there is an abundance of dairy used in these recipes as well as in all Russian cuisine. It, as well as mushrooms, are favorite ingredients for Russian dishes.

You should have little or no trouble gathering the necessary ingredients and if you have the time, you will want to decorate your dining room to give it a Russian flavor. Accessories which will fill this bill include brightly colored paper flowers, lacquered bowls, and spoons of Russian peasant handicraft, and if you have one, a brightly colored shawl draped decoratively will add to the festivities. Dress in true Russian fashion would include peasant blouses, full skirts and boots. Add some of the wonderful Russian music and you will truly have a Russian feast.

Miss Blackledge Will Wed Russell Conerly

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Blackledge of Bay St. Louis announce the engagement of their daughter Debra Lynn to Mr. Russell Warren Conerly son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Conerly of Tylertown, Miss. The wedding will take place

Saturday Sept. 2 at 4 p.m. in the home of the bride's parents. Miss Blackledge is the granddaughter of Mrs. A. B. Sanders of Ellisville and the late Mr. Sanders, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Blackledge of Laurel. Mr. Conerly's maternal grandmother is Mrs. R. C. Allen and the late Mr. Allen of Natchez and Mr. and Mrs. P. Conerly Sr. of Tylertown are the paternal grandparents.

Party Fetes Engaged Couple

On Sunday an engagement announcement party was given in the home of Colonel and Mrs. Nunez C. Pilet when their house guests Senora Raul Gonzalez de Merlo announced the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter Senorita Margarita Gonzalez de Merlo to Senor Eric Klanderud of Hurtado. Date of the marriage is September 14 and Mr. and Mrs. Klanderud plan a wedding trip via the Norwegian Caribbean Lines where they will be passengers on the Skyward and visit Haiti, San Juan, Nassau, St. Thomas and the U.S. Virgin Islands before returning to Guatemala City, where they will make their home.

During the festival Senorita Margarita formally thanked those in attendance and gave a short explanation of how the marriage customs in Guatemala differ from those in the United States. She demonstrated the use of the silver wedding chain cord which would be used during the services to entwine the couple, signifying their unity. The chain was then presented to the hostess, a long-time friend of the Gonzalez family. Presiding at the sangria service was Senora Margot Gonzalez de Merlo and others assisting the hostess were Miss Ruby Rose and Mrs. Norvin P. Oliver of Pass Christian. Cake was served by Mrs. Sam Williams of Gulfport. Refreshments included typical American salads, canapes, sandwiches, etc.

In an exchange of gifts Mrs. Pilet received from Margarita an exquisite purple and silver Guatemalan skirt woven by the Indians of Central America. It was explained how the looms for the weaving are very crude and attached to tree trunks while the women weavers kneel and run their bobbins back and forth to produce beautiful and intricate designs. Colonel Pilet accepted an Indian carving replica of an ancient Indian God. The Pilets gifts for the young couple included an English Wedgewood wedding cake and sterling cake knife, paper weights and book-ends made of Mississippi Sands and several locally designed souvenirs.

Prior to returning to Guatemala the Gonzalez de Merlos shopped in New Orleans for wedding gown, household appliances and "gadgets" not readily available at this time in Guatemala.

Senorita Margarita Gonzalez de Merlo is well known in both New Orleans and along the Gulf Coast. She was graduated from Ursuline Convent and was a frequent visitor in the home of the Pilets during the years they lived on North Beach at Yasume. Other members of the Gonzalez family also visited in the Pilet home on various occasions.

Council Head Visits Facilities

Mr. Horace Kerr, who took office as Executive Director of the Mississippi Council on Aging on August 1, 1972, visited the program for the Elderly on the Mississippi Gulf Coast August 4. Accompanied by Mrs. Gwen Gollotte, Project Coordinator for the Area-wide Model Project for the Elderly, Mr. Kerr visited the Harrison County Home for the Aged which has recently been awarded a Title III grant for a rural activities center. At the Home for the Aged he visited with the staff and residents and expressed enthusiasm for the first such project in this area.

Miss Ladner Will Wed Mr. Cuevas

Mr. and Mrs. Oris Ladner of Lakeshore, announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter Barbara Ann to Mr. Berlyn Cuevas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Cuevas of Kiln, on August 19 at 7 p.m. at St. John's Catholic Church in Lakeshore. Reception immediately follows at Annunciation School Gym in Kiln. All friends and relatives are invited.

RECEIVING DEGREES
Two Bay St. Louis residents will be among the 221 students receiving degrees in the Mississippi College summer commencement program scheduled for 4 p.m. Friday, Aug. 18 in Jackson's City Auditorium.
Receiving the Master of Education degree will be Willie C. Acker and Gibson Lee Carter.

Also included in the day's visit was a tour of the facilities in Hancock County, the Valena C. Jones Senior Citizens Center; a meeting with the Hancock County Coordinator, Mrs. Eve McDonald and entire staff; a visit to Hancock General Hospital where the "meals on wheels" preparation is under the direction of Miss Yvonne Artigues, dietitian. At the hospital he visited with Miss Artigues, her staff, and others involved in the meals project. Mrs. Lou Feeney, coordinator of the "meals on wheels" program explained the importance of the volunteer efforts in the success of the home delivered meals program.

Mr. Carl Baldenhofer, a daily volunteer in the meals program, expressed his views to the new state director from the viewpoint of a senior citizen who has retired and still wishes to give his time and energy to a worthwhile endeavor. He noted that the majority of those packaging and delivering the food to the homebound elderly in the Hancock County area were senior citizens.

Mr. Kerr completed his tour of the area in the late afternoon with a visit to Biloxi and the Duke Senior Citizens Center where Jerry Bodin, Director of Biloxi's program, showed him the facilities and explained the schedule of activities.

Upon completion of a full day of onsite visiting, the State's Executive Director of the Mississippi Council on Aging, stated: "I am tremendously pleased and excited with what is happening on the Gulf Coast for the elderly citizens." He complimented the efforts of everyone involved in bringing about a program of great importance to the three-county area. He noted the hand-in-hand cooperation of the Mississippi Council on Aging, Southern Mississippi Planning and Development District and local boards of supervisors and service agencies were highly significant in contributing to the success of the Area-wide Model Project for the Elderly.

Legionnaires Hold Installation

American Legion Post 77 and American Legion Auxiliary Unit 77 of Waveland held a joint meeting Friday to install the newly elected officers of both organizations. The meeting was opened by retiring Commander James R. Kelly, who then introduced the installing official for the post, James P. Dean, of Corinth, commander, The American Legion, Department of Mississippi. Dean administered the oath of office to the following legionnaires: Commander Donald F. Decker, First Vice Commander Walter J. Courtault, Second Vice Commander Terry Malone, Adjutant Terence M. Feeney, Finance Officer Mrs. W. F. (Sue) Luhrsen, Service Officer Chester L. Curvey, Chaplain Walter Turcotte, Sergeant-at-Arms Larry L. Bourgeois, Historian Mrs. Urban (Frances) Stork, and Judge Advocate George Cleary.

The new commander then relinquished the floor to outgoing Auxiliary President, Mrs. Claude (Hazel) Tracey who introduced installing Official Mrs. Clyde Griffin, Department Historian and Acting Secretary. Mrs. Griffin, from Jackson, charged the new Unit officers: President Mrs. Chester (Dena) Curvey, First Vice President Mrs. Donald (Estelle) Decker, Second Vice President Mrs. Louella Culbreth, Secretary Mrs. Colleen Evans, Treasurer Mrs. Floyd (Evelyn) Oller, Sergeant-at-Arms Mrs. Agnes Ray, Historian Mrs. Marie Hoefeld and Chaplain Mrs. Connie Riels.

A social hour followed the formal closing ceremony. In addition to the installing officials, distinguished visitors included Derrell Roberts, Pineville, department vice commander for the Southern Area; Mrs. W. H.

(Elizabeth) Hardy, West Point, past department president; Mrs. Grady (Patsie) Cook, Petal ninth district president; Mrs. J. W. (Lola) Sumrall, Gulfport, Past ninth District president; Mrs. Pauling Carpin, president, Auxiliary Unit 139 in Bay St. Louis; Mrs. Hilda Couget, president of VFW Auxiliary Unit 7194 in Araby, La.; and Mrs. James (Carolyn) Dean, wife of the Department Commander.

Floral arrangements were made and donated by Nina Garcia's House of Flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hille Jr. announce the birth of their sixth child and sixth girl, Dayle Frances, July 27, at Howard Memorial Hospital, Biloxi. She weighed seven pounds, nine ounces.

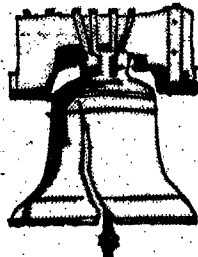

Mrs. Hille is the former Patricia Chapman, daughter of Mrs. A. J. Chapman, Jr. and the late Mr. Chapman. Paternal grandparents are Mrs. Hille, Sr. and the late Mr. Hille.

Mr. and Mrs. Pedro Francis (Tony) Monti announce the arrival of their third child and third girl, Susan Frances, August 4 at Gulfport Memorial Hospital. She weighed five pounds, 14 ounces.

Mrs. Monti is the former Mabel Taconi, daughter of Joseph Taconi of Bay St. Louis and the late Mrs. Taconi. Paternal grandparents are Mrs. Leonie Monti, also of this city, and the late Pedro Monti.

LET'S BE POSITIVE on America

As we approach the 200th Anniversary of the founding of our great nation, it's time to take a good look at what has made America great.

Some people seem anxious to tell us what is WRONG with our country. Let's be positive, and think and talk about what is RIGHT about America.

Let us be reminded of the American Dream, both as seen by the immigrant and the native son, and the reality of that Dream. Let us be proud of our physical aspects of the land itself . . . of the varied peoples from many lands who have made our country what it is today.

Maybe this could be called a "plea for unity", a time to be positive in our thinking, and especially a time to BE PROUD OF AMERICA!

Post Office Employees Given Retirement Party

On June 30, 1972, Andy J. Becker, postmaster at Bay St. Louis, retired after 35 years of service with the Post Office at Bay St. Louis. Becker entered the post office as a substitute clerk in 1936, and was appointed Postmaster in 1958. On this same date Curtis Ladner retired as carrier after serving twenty-nine years with the Postal Service in Bay St. Louis.

As of July 1, James R. Shadoin, assistant postmaster at Bay St. Louis, who for the past year had been Officer in Charge of the Post Office at Picayune, Miss., was appointed by the Southern Region, United States Postal Service to serve as Officer in Charge at Bay St. Louis.

Recently, the employees of the local post office gave a retirement party at the Wheel In Restaurant for the two retiring employees. Officer in Charge Shadoin presented gifts of appreciation to each of them on behalf of the local post office employees and extended best wishes for a long and pleasant retirement.

Mr. Osmond Blaise who had retired earlier in the year was presented a certificate of service for the Post Office Department.

The couple will make their home in Mobile, Alabama, where he is employed with AAMCO Transmission.

Mr. Farve returned from the U.S. Navy July 21, after serving four years on the James C. Owens 776.

'Frisbee Handbook' Now In Paperback

The frisbee has come a long way since that legendary (some say mythical) day in 1827, when Yale undergraduate Elihu Frisbee heaved a collection plate across the campus quad in protest against compulsory chapel.

The modern plastic model took shape in the mid-1950's, and by 1956 there was an International Frisbee Tournament. In 1970 the frisbee became the subject of a course at the University of Oregon, and in 1971 it made its Broadway debut in the play

"Two Gentlemen of Verona." Now, finally, there is "The Official Frisbee Handbook," a Bantam Original paperback, written by frisbee freak Goldy Norton. The book covers every aspect of frisbee culture.

History - How the sport developed from the Greeks (Was that disc in the first olympics really a frisbee?) to the present.

The International Frisbee Association - How to join and what is required to attain each rank from novice to master.

Frisbee Skills - The basic arsenal, plus fancy flips and classy catches.

Who's Who in Frisbee - Profiles of 13 frisbee greats, such as Steady Ed Hedrick, Steve "The Enforcer" Sewall, and Dr. Stencil "Super Skrink" Johnson.

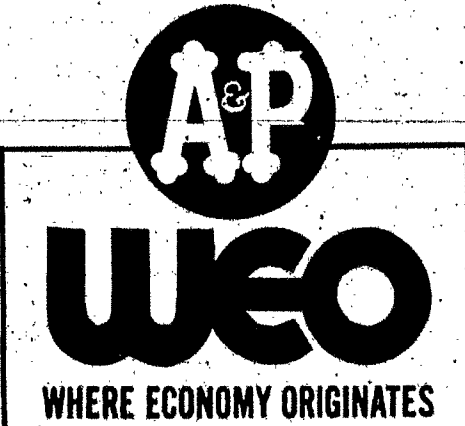

Author Goldy Norton traces the frisbee to Fred Morrison, an amateur magician from Los Angeles who conceived of the plastic disc in the 1950's while experimenting with soaring pie plates for his act.

The disc was marketed by Wham-O of San Gabriel, first as the Pluto Platter, then as the Flying Saucer, and finally as the Frisbee. California has since spawned the International Frisbee Association, based in Los Angeles and a bumper crop of frisbee masters.

When Goldy Norton is not throwing a frisbee, he heads his own public relations firm in Los Angeles.

FOOD CENTER WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD

ON ANY WEEKLY ADVERTISED ITEM BY ANY OTHER MAJOR SUPERMARKET

We will not be undersold on any weekly advertised item or coupon at any time, by any other major supermarket. No need to shop from store to store. Food Center has it all. 1. Everyday low prices. 2. Our own advertised items and coupons. 3. Now, our new policy to be undersold policy.

FOOD CENTER WILL MATCH THE LOWEST ADVERTISED PRICE AND COUPON FROM WINN-DIXIE A&P WEQ

HERE'S ALL YOU DO

1. READ ALL OF THE FOOD CENTER ADVERTISED ITEMS. Select the item and the coupon you desire. Clip one of this week's advertised ads in Collect.

2. TEAR OUT THE ITEM AND PRICE. Clip or tear out the portions of this week's newspaper ads that show the items you want to buy. Make sure the size and price, and date line are included on your tear-outs.

3. TAKE YOUR TEAR-OUTS TO FOOD CENTER. We'll match the lowest price to Food Center's. With our "Save Shoppers" plan you'll buy your purchases and then return the Food Center office to receive both the item and the coupon.

4. TAKE YOUR MATCHED COUPON TO THE STORE. We'll match the lowest price to Food Center's. With our "Save Shoppers" plan you'll buy your purchases and then return the Food Center office to receive both the item and the coupon.

FOOD DISCOUNT CENTER

FOOD CENTER WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD

ON ANY WEEKLY ADVERTISED ITEM
BY ANY OTHER MAJOR SUPERMARKET

HERE IS FOOD CENTER'S NEW PRICE POLICY - We will not be undersold on any weekly advertised food item by the major food chains: A & P WEO, and Winn Dixie.

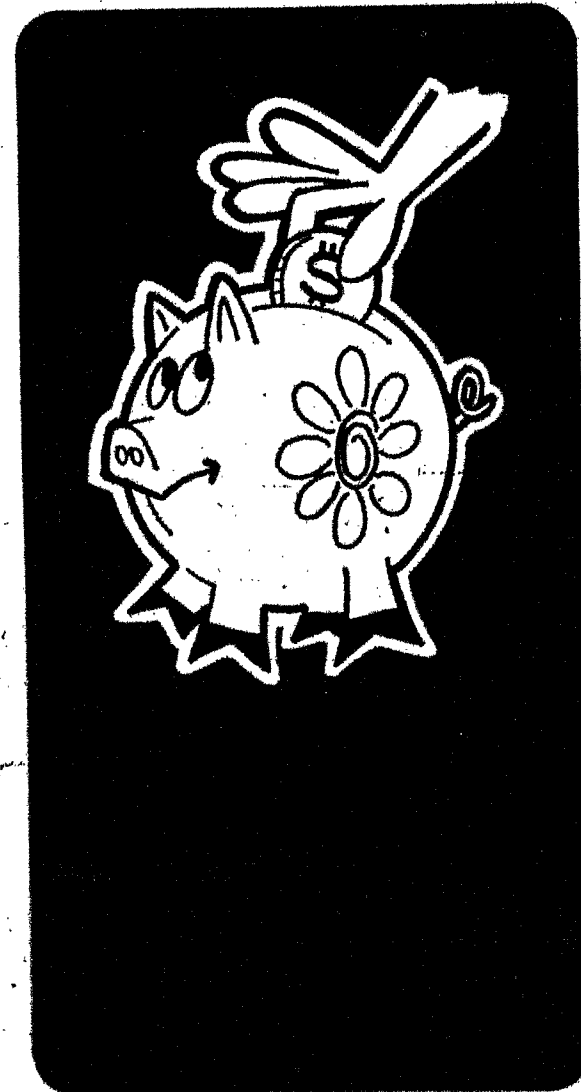

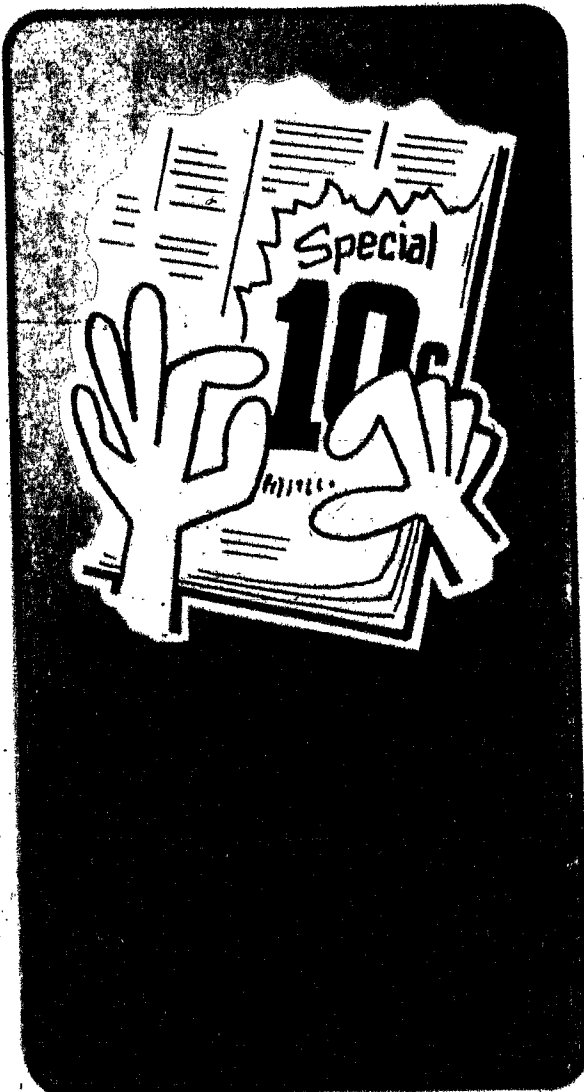

Food Center has the lowest possible discount prices in the city and we're proud to say "we will not be undersold" on any weekly advertised food items or coupons at any time, by any other major supermarket.

Oh, once in a while some other food store will run a special price for a day or two. When this happens, Food Center says again that "we will not be undersold." Just clip out the current newspaper ad from the other store. Bring it to Food Center and we will meet the price on comparable brands no matter what the item or what the major supermarket. Coupons will be redeemed according to the terms and conditions stated on each coupon.

When you get the lowest discount prices, shouldn't you make Food Center your everyday food store? Remember, Food Center will not be undersold on advertised items. We're stubborn about things like that! Why shop anywhere else?
